

NYCwireless.net strongly supports converting unused broadcast spectrum to unlicensed use for the good of commerce and community. The use of unlicensed spectrum has shown the true meaning of efficient spectrum use. The current regulatory regime that divides spectrum leases by geographically has been made obsolete by technology.

In NYCwireless a user group and volunteer organization has made huge strides in unwiring the cities public spaces and bringing needed communication services to the under-privileged residents of our city. Continue expansion of unlicensed spectrum especially the excellent low frequency proposed in this NPRM will allow NYCw to continue expanding our mission to use wireless technology as a means to achieving social justice, community building and frictionless commerce.

By utilizing the tools of modern technology NYCw hopes to improve the life of the cities needy, bring flexibility and agility to our businesses and increases the usefulness NYC public spaces. More unlicensed spectrum will reduce the cost and increase the quality of what we are able to achieve.
